Interested in taking a Gap Year?

What is a gap year?

Traditionally a gap year was taken by Year 12 students who deferred their university studies for 12-months. Now gap years are taken by students who would like to delay their TAFE or university studies or apprenticeships.

What are the benefits of taking a gap year?

There are many benefits for young people – the following are several:

Financial: save money to fund future study/training.

Career development: complete a traineeship, TAFE course, volunteering etc., before starting university studies. This may improve your graduate employment prospects and give you practical employment skills.

Take a break: if you're feeling burnt out from study, taking a break may be beneficial for your mental wellbeing.

Give you time to firm up your future goals: if you're feeling unsure about your study or training plans, a gap year may give you time to explore your goals, attend open days, participate in work or training related to your interests, and give you more time to make sure the course or training you want to do in the future is right for you.

Gap year programs

Year13 have put together a list of companies that offer working holidays, travel, and volunteer gap year programs, <https://year13.com.au/explore/travel>

YEAR 10 - 12 STUDENTS

Note: the following information is for Year 12 students and Year 10 and 11 students who have family and school support to exit from school.

TAFE applicants

Applications are open for most TAFE institutes and private providers. The following is important to know:

Competitive courses may have early closing dates

You may need to complete additional tasks as part of your application such as portfolios, literacy and numeracy tests, information sessions, applying for a Working With Children Check, etc.

The Summer School is free, open to students from across Australia, and will be held between 18 – 20 January 2023 at the ACU North Sydney Campus. Travel bursaries are available. Don't miss out – applications close 1 December 2022, www.acu.edu.au

Employment

With the summer holidays coming up, now is the perfect time to start applying for jobs. There are several methods for finding employment. The following explores three.

1. Cold Calling

Did you know that many jobs aren't advertised? These employers rely on word of mouth and /or contact people who drop in resumes to their business. This is called 'cold calling'. What does this mean for you? It means you have to be:

Proactive

Get your resume and cover letter together, use/buy/borrow a smart outfit and hit the streets. Employers love young people who demonstrate initiative and independence.

Organised

Ask someone to go over your resume to look for spelling and grammatical errors. Ensure it is formatted correctly and no more than 2-pages. Be careful of using online resume builders as often the formatting looks poor. Youth Central has excellent sample resumes, www.youthcentral.vic.gov.au

Engaged

Let everyone know you are looking for casual employment. Word of mouth is a powerful tool to finding a job. Contact the referees on your resume to let them know they may receive calls from employers.

2. Register with businesses

Some businesses allow prospective employees to register with their organisation and apply for jobs advertised on their website. Access a list of casual job links to get started via <https://slmcareerresources.edublogs.org/>

3. Search for advertised jobs

Apart from the links above, the following websites are great to bookmark and check regularly www.seek.com.au

<https://au.jora.com>
<https://au.indeed.com/>

Also check the classified section in your local newspaper.
